

5th Swedish Symposium of Fertility Preservation Stockholm, May 30-31 and June 1, 2024

- Preliminary program* Place: SUNE BERGSTRÖM Aula, NKS

Thursday May 30th

18:00-20:00

KEY-NOTE SESSION

- 18:10 Leslie Coker Appiah, MD, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology
Director Fertility Preservation and Reproductive Late Effects Program. University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus and Children's Hospital, Denver, Colorado
Current recommendations for female fertility preservation and surveillance for children, adolescents and young adults
- 18:50 Kenny Rodriguez-Wallberg, Professor of Reproductive Oncology, Head of the Program of Fertility Preservation, Karolinska University Hospital
Current status of Fertility preservation for adults and children in Sweden
- 19:25 Evelyn Telfer, PhD, Professor of Reproductive Biology.
University of Edinburgh
State-of-the-Art of in vitro development of human oocytes

Friday May 31st

9:00-11:30

CURRENT STATUS OF FERTILITY PRESERVATION

- 9:00 – 9:30 Coffee
- 9:30 – 9:40 Kenny Rodriguez-Wallberg, Professor of Reproductive Oncology, Head of the Program of Fertility Preservation, Karolinska University Hospital
Welcome to our 5th Symposium! Short introduction
- 9:40 – 10:20 Yasmin Jayasinghe, MD, PhD, FRANZCOG
Pediatric Gynecologist, Medical Director Oncofertility Program. The Royal Children's Hospital, Melbourne, Australia
Pediatric oncofertility in the Australia-New Zealand Network – The clinical and ethics framework
- 10:25– 11:00 Fertility Preservation – How long have the methods developed and what can be currently offered as clinical treatment?
- Arturo Reyes Palomares, Assistant Professor, Clinical embryologist, Karolinska Institutet
 - Cryopreservation of sperm
 - Anna Marklund, Consultant Reproductive medicine specialist Karolinska University Hospital Cryopreservation of oocytes and ovarian tissue
 - Fotios Sergouniotis, Consultant, Reproductive medicine specialist Karolinska University Hospital Transplantation of gonadal tissue to recover fertility
 - Randa Akouri, Associate Professor, Consultant Reproductive medicine specialist, Sahlgrenska University Hospital
 - Uterus transplantation
- 11:00 -11:30 Rod Mitchell, Professor of Developmental Endocrinology
Consultant Pediatric Endocrinologist, MRC Centre for Reproductive Health, Institute for Regeneration and Repair, Edinburgh
Fertility preservation in boys: New insights from the ORCHID-NET consortium
- 11:40- 12:10 Current studies on fertility preservation in Sweden and the Nordic countries
- Profertil, a RCT on GnRHα for adults and adolescent girls - A needed study.
Kenny Rodriguez-Wallberg
 - Nordfertil – A nordic strategy to preserve fertility in boys
Jan-Bernd Stukenborg, Associate Professor, Karolinska Institutet

12:10-13:10 Lunch - Restaurant Nanna Svartz

Friday May 31st

13:20 -14:20 THE LATE EFFECTS OF CANCER TREATMENT

- Arja Harila Saari, Professor in Pediatric Oncology, Uppsala University.
The late effects of cancer treatment – not only affecting fertility
- Hildur Helgadóttir Associate Professor, Oncologist, Karolinska University Hospital
Novel targeted treatments in young patients and their impact in fertility
- Lena Wettergren Professor in Care Science, Uppsala University.
The Swedish Fex-Can Study of young people experiencing cancer during childhood

14:30 – 15:00 Coffee break

Friday May 31st

15:00-17:00 RESEARCH AND FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

- 15:00 -15:30 Kyle Orwig, PhD, Professor of Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Sciences
Director, UPMC Magee Center for Reproduction and Transplantation and Fertility Preservation Program, Magee-Womens Research Institute, University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine
Fertility preservation for pre-pubertal boys. What has been achieved over 20 years of research.
- 15:40-16:10 Evelyn Telfer, PhD, Professor of Reproductive Biology.
University of Edinburgh
Future developments in ovarian research.
- 16:20-16:50 Gabriela Armuand, School of Health and Social Studies, Dalarna University, Sweden
Teenager patients' experiences of fertility preservation

Saturday June 1st

9:30-15:00 POPULAR SCIENTIFIC LECTURES IN SWEDISH

EN DAG FÖR PATIENTER OCH FAMILJER

Vad sker med fertiliteten efter en cancerbehandling?

Program

- 09:30 Fika
- 10:00 Att drabbas av cancer som ung.
- 10:30 Sena effekter av cancerbehandling
- 11:00 Att bevara fertilitet: Metoder och möjligheter
- 11:45 Lunch
- 12:45 Fertilitet efter cancer: Säkerhet och effektivitet
- 13:30 Kaffe
- 14:00 Forskning och framsteg – Vad sker vid Karolinska?
- 14:30 Paneldiskussion med publikens frågor

Välkomna Lördag 1 Juni

Sune Bergströms Aula J3:07, Nya Karolinska Sjukhuset, Solna

Deltagande är gratis efter anmälan till hanna.nilsson@ki.se. Ange namn, antal deltagare och eventuella allergier i mailet.

The symposium is free of charge, including lunch and coffee breaks.

To register, mail to hanna.nilsson@ki.se INCLUDE your name, number of participants, any allergies and the dates you wish to participate.

For an updated program visit:
<https://news.ki.se/calendar/5th-swedish-symposium-of-fertility-preservation>

*The preliminary program will be updated up until the week before the conference.