

Welcome to the launch of GlobeLife, on 12 October

We would like to invite you to the launch of GlobeLife, a network that works to increase and deepen interdisciplinary global health collaborations. GlobeLife is a joint network between Karolinska Institutet and Uppsala University where a new digital platform has been established to breed the network. By strengthening research and education in global health, GlobeLife strives to contribute to the achievement of the Sustainability Development Goals.

Launch of GlobeLife

Date and time: Monday 12 October, at 13.30-16.30

Location: Online via Zoom and Humanistiska Teatern, Uppsala (limited number of seats).
